

Lead coach for Olympic Skull

Austrian Rowing is seeking a lead Coach for the Rowing Center in Völkermarkt, Kärnten to strengthen our professional coaching team as we go forward to the World Championships 2019 in Ottensheim.

We are offering candidates with the appropriate international experience and ambition an attractive opportunity to work with our Olympic athletes based in Völkermarkt and to be involved in our current training system as part of our existing team of coaches.

In this role, you will be coaching and supporting elite athletes on their way to qualify at the World Championships 2019 in Ottensheim for the Olympic Summer Games in Tokio in 2020.

If you have a successful proven track record in internationally coaching men and women and sculling boats, then you have what it takes to fulfill this job.

Under the leadership of the Head Coach of the Austrian Rowing Federation (ARF) you will have responsibility for coaching assigned athletes from our Olympic project boats who train at our National Training Center in Völkermarkt.

You will coach the teams in their daily training in Völkermarkt and at training camps in Austria, abroad and at competitions.

Good knowledge of German or English would be a definite advantage for successfully fulfilling this role. If you can be flexible in allocating your time and enjoy working as part of a team, we would like to hear from you. The proposed start date is as soon as possible. This position runs until 02.09.2019 and ends automatically. The ARF can option to continue the commitment until the Olympics in Tokio. This position will be based at works contract.

ARF Head Coach Carsten Hassing or ARF Director Norbert Lambing will be happy to provide more information by phone or e-mail or in person during the European Championships in Luzern.
